

HOW TO SABOTAGE A COUNTRY'S ECONOMY

IN 10 SIMPLE STEPS

- 1. Subsidize unproductive jobs
to prevent workers from reallocating to more productive ones.
- 2. Cap rents, prevent price gouging,
and, in general, stomp any incentive to increase supply.
- 3. Always discuss the urgent, never the important.
Never build what's needed for tomorrow's success.
- 4. Use debt to cover structural shortcomings.
This will reduce the urgency of solving root problems.
- 5. Conduct root cause analysis until you find a problem for which you cannot be held accountable.
- 6. Always solve problems in the most superficial way.
This will enable the root cause to keep generating problems.
- 7. Trick people into caring more about inequality than prosperity.
Make them play zero-sum games. Even better, negative-sum ones.
- 8. Promote wealth taxes to scare away the entrepreneurs who demonstrate the best ability to create jobs.
- 9. Increase graduation rates and education length as much as possible. Trick people into entering the workforce as late as possible and with as much debt as possible.
- 10. Give people a system where they can choose their party but not their candidate.
Give them the impression of a democracy while retaining all power.
